MORE DELAY LOOMS IN THE BONUS BILL PATH

PRESIDENT HARDING WILL VETO CERTIFI- CATE PAYMENT PLAN

HOUSE COMMITTEE POSTPONES UNTIL MONDAY MEETING TO REPORT ON BILL

CHAIRMAN FORDNEY SAYS WEST IS STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF BILL

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 11—More delay today loomed up in the path of the new soldier bonus bill.

Bonus leaders of the house received loan plan.

Meanwhile, as an indication of growing opposition to the measure, the house ways and means committee has postponed until Monday its meeting to report on the bill. This was done because some pro-bonus committeemen are absent.

The congressmen who have been boosting the bonus unswervingly in the face of the president's objection and the flood of protests that have been coming in for the past year were cheered today when Representative Fordney, chairman of the house ways and means committee spread the word that on his trip to the midwest he found "sentiment overwhelmingly in favor of the bonus."

ANOTHER VETERAN TO LEAVE CONGRESS

(By United Press.)
East St. Louis, Ill., Mar. 10—News of the proposed retirement from Congress of William A. Rodenberg at the expiration of his present term, March 4, 1923, struck like a bomb shell in Illinois political circles.

Rodenberg will have served as a representative for 20 years from the twenty-second congressional district when he steps out of national politics. In 1920, Rodenberg was re-elected by a plurality of 23,000.

The only members of the Illinois delegation, who are older in point of service than Rodenberg, are Representatives "Uncle Joe" Cannon and James R. Mann.

Edward E. Miller, state treasurer, has announced he would be a candidate to fill the shoes of Rodenberg.

SCIENTISTS ACCOUNT FOR EARTHQUAKE

(By United Press.)
San Francisco, March 11.—Scientists today attributed yesterday's earthquake in the southern half of California to a further slipping of the San Andreis fault line which caused the disastrous earthquake of 1906.

U. S. DEMANDS SHARE OF THE RHINE OCCUPATION COST

(By United Press.)
Paris, March 11—Allied foreign ministers meeting here to discuss division of German reparation payments today announced their decision to refer the demand of the United States for a share of the Rhine occupation costs to the various allied governments concerned.

The government will negotiate directly with the state department at Washington inasmuch as interpretation of the Versailles treaty is involved.

U. S. WILL INSIST ON SHARE

Washington, March 11—Action of the allied finance ministers in refusing to include the United States in the first allotment of payments from German reparations for the occupation armies on the Rhine, brought an official statement from a high state department authority today that the United States would continue to insist most strongly upon its share.

BIG RESERVOIRS ARE DECLARED EMPTY

U. S. ENGINEER DOES NOT EX- PECT FLOOD FROM BIG SHOW

St. Paul, March 11—The biggest reservoirs near the source of the Mississippi river, at Winnibigoshish and Leech lakes, are virtually empty and danger from serious floods in the river this spring is not to be feared from these places overflowing their levels. John Wade, chief clerk in the United States engineer's office, St. Paul, declares.

"The possibility of a flood depends on how the snow leaves," said Mr. Wade. "If it goes rapidly there are bound to be some floods, but there is nothing to fear from the big reservoirs. The other four, at Lake Pokegama, Sandy lake, Pine lake and Gull lake, are full every year at this time and we will have them emptied by April 1, which is our usual custom."

SLAIN ST. PAUL HOTEL MAIN VICTIM OF BLACKMAILERS

LEAVES NOTE SAYING FRANK HULBEY AND WIFE WERE EX- TORTING MONEY FROM HIM

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, March 11—Police early today had been unable to pin the blame for the murder of Charles D. Cotter on Frank Hulbey, mentioned in a note found on Cotter's body.

He was shot to death in his hotel early yesterday by one of four bandits who sought to rob him.

"If I, C. D. Cotter am killed or waylaid, look for Frank Hulbey and his wife," read a note found on Cotter's body. "The wife has been getting money from me. They are blackmailing me now for money."

Mrs. Cotter, a bride of three months, told police Mrs. Hulbey is the woman mentioned in the note.

Mrs. Hulbey admitted to police that she recently received $50.00 from Cotter, and said that he was the father of her unborn baby. She had been familiar with him since she met him in Fargo when only 15 years of age, she said.

Hulbey accounted for his actions up to 10:30 Thursday night, but police could not satisfy themselves that he was at home up to 2 a. m. the hour of the murder.

Mrs. Cotter said she had recently demanded that Mrs. Hulbey leave her husband alone.

Mr. Gordon said the other big companies operating in The Pas district include the Hollinger, which is expected to have 65 men at work on the Murray property, on Elbow Lake, this spring.

The mining corporation of Canada has taken over the Flin Flon copper property and a contract has just been let to Smith and Travers to run two diamond drills for this company. This company expects to employ more than 1,000 men.

(By United Press.)

"I am a candidate for governor and no other office," he told the United Press.

He called attention to his statement of February 13th in which he said I know that if I could be of service to the people of Minnesota in the next two years, it would be in the position of governor. I have nothing in addition to that statement to say," he said.

"My name has frequently been linked with the senatorship, but at no time have such remarks been made with my consent or approval."

The governor is understood to favor returning Frank B. Kellogg to the senate.

COAL WORKERS COMPLETE VOTE FOR WALKOUT

NINE-TENTHS OF MINERS CAST BALLOTS FAVORING STRIKE APRIL 1, OFFICIALS BELIEVE

Indianapolis, March 10.—The strike vote of soft coal miners was completed today by local unions scattered throughout the country, and though the exact returns will not be known for a week, officials of the United Mine Workers of America here believe that nine-tenths or more of the workers cast their ballots for a walkout on April 1, unless a new wage agreement is made in the meantime.

Chances of getting a wage conference with the operators of the central competitive field, comprising western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, seemed remote to the union chiefs, for no change in the attitude of operators opposing an interstate conference opposed from the appeal of Secretary of Labor Davis for the two sides getting together. The only possibility of a conference as viewed by union officials was for the government calling both operators and miners to Washington, but no one at union headquarters had any information that such a call was contemplated by administration officials.

What may happen in the Pennsylvania anthracite field depends on the outcome of the meeting between union officials and operators at New York next Wednesday. To the extent of having arranged for a joint conference is the strike situation in the soft and hard coal fields different, though no referendum vote was cast by the anthracite miners. Their convention, however, declared for a suspension in event a new wage agreement did not provide for wage advances. In the soft coal fields the miners ask the retention of their present basic wage scales.

The international executive board of the union ended a four day meeting today with the announcement that it's last day's work was purely routine business. No consideration was given the strike situation, members said, adding that all question relating to the strike were for the policy committee, which has not yet been called to meet.

President John L. Lewis said no date for the policy committee meeting had been set. Tabulation of the strike vote will begin next Thursday.

Walkout Vote Increases.

Indianapolis, March 11.—Ballots on the coal miners strike reaching headquarters here today continued to pile up an overwhelming majority in favor of a walkout April 1.

If the mine owners continue their refusal to negotiate a new wage scale before that time, there will be a strike officers of the United Mine Workers said.

The entire vote of the unions is five hundred thousand and will be in headquarters here and tabulated by the end of next week, it was said. The balloting closed yesterday.

FAILURE TO RATIFY FOUR POWER PACT NATIONAL CALAMITY

SAYS SECRETARY HUGHES TO SENATOR UNDERWOOD IN LETTER

(By United Press.)
Washington, March 11—Failure of the senate to ratify the four-power Pacific treaty would be "nothing short of a national calamity," Secretary of State Hughes today declared in a letter to Senator Underwood, democratic leader of the senate.

Treaty Defeat Backward Step, Says Senator Underwood

Washington, March 11—Defeat of the four-power Pacific treaty would be a "backward step" in the life of this nation, Senator Underwood, of Alabama, asserted in a speech to the senate today.

Underwood, leader of the democratic party in the senate, and member of the American delegation to the arms conference, signed the treaty, and is a leader in the fight for its ratification. His speech was intended to swing democrats to support the treaty.

"If the senate ratifies the treaty," said Underwood, "I am fully satisfied that there will disappear not only a real cause for war, but that there will no longer exist the opportunity for war that has threatened us in the past two decades."

Underwood declared the criticism of the treaty based on its having only four powers, lacks force because the four powers that signed it are the only ones capable of disturbing the peace of the Orient within the next ten years—the life of the treaty.

"Germany is down and out for at least the next half century. All semblance of government is destroyed in Russia," Senator Underwood said.

"The treaty is a better guarantee for the Philippine Islands than fortifications and navies would be," Senator Underwood held. "These islands have been the danger in case of war ever since we held them."

"I agree that it is entirely possible with a very large expenditure of money for maintenance of a very large navy to so fortify and protect the Philippine Islands that they would be safe against the attack of other nations."

Who Wrote Treaty.

Washington, March 11—The four-power Pacific treaty was named around the arms conference table on drafts submitted by Secretary of State Hughes, Arthur J. Balfour and Ambassador Shidehara of Japan.

It is a composite picture of the drafts prepared by the leaders.

No one man wrote the pact, as has been charged in the senate, although the treaty in its final form most nearly resembles the draft prepared by Shidehara.

Its formation was prompted by Anglo-Japanese suggestions that a new treaty be drawn to scrap the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The above is the answer to the question: "Who wrote the four-power Pacific pact?"—now the center of the stormy debate in the senate, which threatens to menace ratification of the treaty. It is based on information obtained when the United Press exclusively gave America the first news that the treaty had been framed and approved by the "Big Three" and on other information collected since the conference from reliable diplomatic sources.

GOV'T SEED GRAIN LOANS BOON TO THE NORTHWEST FARMERS

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, March 11—Farmers of the northwest are assured of ample finance. If the $100,000,000 is made available through congress for seed grain loans, the country will not have to worry about production.

This was the view of bankers here today following announcement by John A. Oace that the war finance corporation has already approved loans totaling more than $50,000,000 for Minnesota, Montana and the Dakotas.

The war finance corporation have approved the loans to farmers and life stock men in Minnesota totaling $10,000,000. The figures for North Dakota are $17,000,000 and South Dakota $13,500,000 and Montana $10,000,000.

"The finance corporation has been a great benefit especially to the northwest," said Mr. Oace, vice-president of the Merchants National bank, who has just returned from Washington.

ANOTHER MOVIE DIRECTOR SLAIN

UNDER CIRCUMSTANCES AS MYST- ERIOUS AS WM. DESMOND TAYLOR'S MURDER

(By United Press.)
Camden, N. J., March 11—Under mysterious circumstances recalling the murder of William Desmond Taylor, John T. Brunen, a theatrical promoter and friend of the Los Angeles movie director, was slain here last night.

Three men were seen to drive up to his home and later he was found dead. A charge of buck shot had been fired into the back of his neck, apparently from a sawed off shotgun.

Brunen was found some time after one of the three men was seen to enter his home. No shot was heard by neighbors and the men had plenty of time to get away.

The slain theatrical man had been seated near a window reading an account of the trial of Mrs. Obenchain for the murder of John Belton Kennedy.

(By United Press.)
Johannesburg, South Africa—Casualties reported in the battle between miners and police in mining towns near here have reached a total of forty killed and more than one hundred wounded.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO KEEP HER LOCKS DARK,
GLOSSY, BEAUTIFUL

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, resides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

KARHUNSAARI DEFEATS GREEK

Ferocious Finn, Says Ironwood, Michigan Paper, Takes Two Out of Three Falls

WRESTLED AT 158 POUNDS

Demetral, Greek Wrestling Champion, Succumbed to Head Scissors and Half Nelson

In a letter to the Dispatch from Kansas City, Mo., Henry Karhunsari writes that he was not given definite information as to when the match with L. C. Curtiss, of Bemidji, was to be staged in Brainerd. He claims he sent a telegram to the Smraker pool hall February 28, and hopes a match may be arranged some time in April, possibly the 14th.

As showing that he is busy on the mat when away from Brainerd he enclosed a clipping from an Ironwood, Mich., paper given a report of his match with Demetral, Greek champion. The clipping is as follows:

If Jimmie Demetral, Greek wrestling champion, had any championship at stake Tuesday night, he lost it because Henry Karhunsari, the Ferocious Finn of Virginia, Minn., threw Demetral, two out of three, at the Palace hall. They wrestled at 158 pounds.

It was the finest exhibition ever witnessed on the Gogebic range, maintain old timers who saw the Elks show last night. And it was a case of a man who knew all the tricks of the trade going up against a man who had greater endurance and was more powerful. Strength told the tale.

Karhunsari won the first fall in one hour and 40 seconds with a head scissors and half Nelson. Demetral took the second in 6 minutes and 15 seconds by using a head lock and scissors. The Finn won the third in 34 minutes and 10 seconds with a head lock and half Nelson.

So far as attendance is concerned, it was not a paying proposition, as the Elks building committee lost money on the show. But there was no hope of making money on the first match, the matchmakers depending on the opener to give publicity enough to wrestling to insure a good house when the next bout is arranged.

Not a Love Match.
So far as the main bout wrestlers were concerned, it was anything but a love match. The Greek started after Karhunsari like a young wildcat and adopted greased lightning tactics at the start. As time went on, the Greek was forced to go on the defensive and the Virginian became the aggressor.

Demetral tried the toe hold any number of times, but Karhunsari seemed to walk right into that position without much concern. So peeved did the wrestlers become that they threw each other into the ringside seats and in reality, Referee Wiley lost the first fall. He was downed when the wrestlers grabbed him in the excitement. But he handled the situation extremely well.

Henry Loses His Gun.

As the grapplers proceeded, Karhunsari lost his gun and stopped to pick it up. He chewed gum throughout the entire match. Then he clamped a wicked headlock on the Greek, but Jimmie broke it. A short time later the Greek broke a hard wrist lock. Came turn for the Greek. Karhunsari broke a head lock and then busted a wrist and bar arm lock. Both men were adept at working off the man when they were placed in a bad position.

The only hold that the middleweights did not show last night was a good body scissors. It was a head scissors that enabled Karhunsari to throw the Greek the first time.

Greek is Aggressor.

The boy from Greece was the aggressor in the second appearance of the grapplers and he got the first hold, but Karhunsari broke it. Then he clamped a head lock and scissors on the Virginian and pinned him in 6:15. Karhunsari started the next session by letting Demetral get another good toe hold, or rather a good hold on his toes. But it was of no avail. It looked like the curtain for Demetral when the Finn clamped a wicked head lock on him, but the Greek broke away after being held momentarily. Then Demetral resorted to the old trick of tripping his opponent. He was caught by a wrist lock and arm scissors, however, that pinned him considerably.

Then Came Windup.

Demetral had hardly broke away from that when Karhunsari got a headlock and half Nelson and pinned him in 34:19.

When the bout was finished and Karhunsari had been declared the winner by Referee Wiley, Demetral made the customary announcement, saying:

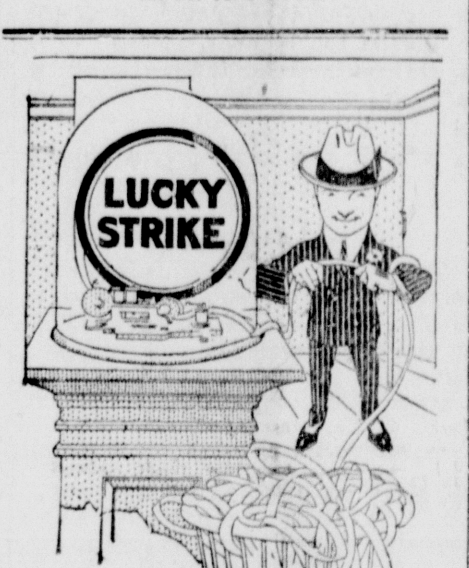

"I'm not going to alibi. I was beat fair and square."

But Demetral couldn't resist the little added explanation that he wrestled a big fellow in Milwaukee a few night ago and that he hadn't had a drop of water or a morsel of food in three days in order to make weight. To make a long story short, Demetral said he would come here and tackle Karhunsari if he could meet him at catch weights and he would stake considerably on James to win.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENS

The political campaign will open all along the line next week. Voting for delegates to the Republican County Convention will take place on Tuesday, the hours being from noon to 9 p. m. in the city, and in the townships the same as at the regular township elections. The number of delegates to be elected is 100.

The coming week will be an important one politically, as it will usher in a series of conventions that will not close until March 31. The Republican county conventions will be held March 18, the Democratic county conventions March 21, the Congressional conventions of both parties March 30, and the State conventions of the two major parties Friday, March 31. The Nonpartisan League will hold a mass convention in Minneapolis on the same day.

Much interest is shown in the Republican state convention, but so far the Democratic gathering is not receiving much attention. The indications are at present that Senator Kellogg will be endorsed for re-election by a big majority. The St. Paul Pioneer Press thus sizes up the Senatorial situation:

"Injection of the name of Mayor George E. Leach of Minneapolis into the Senatorial fight has not complicated the situation to any great degree, in the view of Republican politicians. Early reports that the Leach boom was a mere subterfuge to 'cover' the Hennepin county delegation are not credited. The Leach boom is aimed as much at Hallam as at Kellogg and is not likely seriously to affect either.

"While the battle for indorsement is being waged hotly in Ramsey county between followers of Senator Kellogg and Justice Hallam, there is no such contest over the state, if reports from many counties may be believed. In many parts of the state the fact that Hallam is a candidate is not known."

THE POTASH INDUSTRY

The potash industry is a present day example of Republican protective argument. If supported by adequate protection it will make us independent of foreign potash. Rendered a prey to Germany, we will again be dependent upon that power for our potash supply.

It was the boast of Germany at the beginning of the World war that in a short time she would have the world at her feet, begging for potash, and the realization that unless something were done it might be possible to make it good, that spurred Americans to the search for domestic sources of that commodity so necessary to the farmers as fertilizer.

The industry is now in a most flourishing condition. Production costs, which had been exceedingly high during and immediately following the war, have been cut to less than one-third what they were. This fact is cited as indicating what American ingenuity, science, and initiative can accomplish if left undisturbed by foreign attempts to discourage experimentation and stamp out manufacture. The war was serving the purpose of a prohibitive tariff. A restrictive tariff is all that the potash producers now ask, and that is provided for over a five-year period in the pending tariff bill.

THE LESSON OF THRIFT

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon recently issued a thrift bulletin in which this assertion is made: "Man works for money. If he saves, money will work for him."

No doubt too many people overlook the truth of the statement that money saved will work for its owners. If a farmer had 120 acres of land and raised 2,000 bushels of wheat and wasted the proceeds in high living, so that he had neither seed nor the wherewith to buy for the next season, he would soon be a bankrupt. But if he saved seed for 120 acres and used part of his gains to clear another 20 acres, to be seeded the next season, he would be making the savings work for him. Or, if he turned all the wheat into money, to be loaned to some one else who wanted to buy seed, the ultimate result would be the same. His savings would be working for him, and doing some one else good at the same time.

It is the margin of saving that really measures the industrial progress and development of the world. If there had been no saving from the beginning of the human race, we would probably still be cave-men.

CANNOT BE AVOIDED

The Secretary of the Navy has notified Mr. Gompers that the Government can do nothing to aid the men thrown out of work at the navy yards as a result of the naval limitation treaty and the economies of the administration. There is no doubt that the country is behind the effort to cut down the Federal payroll. The individual hardships that the process imposes are to be regretted, but cannot be avoided.

Highway Commissioner Babcock announces that more than 100 trucks and fifty tractors—rebuilt war equipment—and other heavy machinery, will be ready for use on local roads over the state this year. The use of this machinery is offered by the Highway department for the purpose of encouraging closer co-operation between counties and townships on local road work.

It is stated that more than 40,000 residents of Minnesota who paid income taxes in 1921 will not pay taxes this year because of recent legislation broadening the scope of exemptions.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST
STORIES OF TODAY

Andy Nelson, who hauls the mail from postoffice to depot, had a funny experience with deep ruts in the street. His flivver was towing the mail truck and when he got to the depot he couldn't turn around. So he thought he would run down the street for a convenient place to turn around in. It was rut all the way and deep at that until he got away out to the fill. "People wondered why I was hauling mail out to Northeast Brainerd," said Nelson. "All that bothered me was to get a place to swing around without tipping the flivver and the truck."

A loving couple attended a picture show the other night. The young lady kept a firm grip on the object of her affections and wasn't bothered by the attention she attracted.

The eleventh hour rush is on making out income tax statements. They must be in St. Paul under the wire on or before Wednesday, March 15, in the office of L. M. Willcuts, Collector of Internal Revenue.

Elks are working to have their "eleventh hour toast" chimes fixed. Lately the clock balked and struck ten instead of eleven.

Through a typographical error in St. Paul papers, copied by Omaha papers, the Brainerd All Stars got credit for playing a cracking good game in an Omaha tournament, when in reality they had played at St. Paul.

Our Oyster Beds.

There are oyster beds along the Atlantic all the way from Cape Cod to Mexico, but the bivalves are not found in the open sea. The oysters would have been exterminated if it had not been for the practice of planting the beds.

PASTOR REMOVED FOR BAPTIZING A DOG

The Rev. Edwin Curtis of the Brooklyn Presbyterian church and his wife. He has been removed from his church by the Boston Presbytery, accused of having baptized a dog "a full fledged Presbyterian" and offering thanks to the Lord for the "salad" and the "French fried potatoes." His congregation is backing him in the fight to regain office.

NORTHERN PACIFIC DAY IN BRAINERD

Suggestion Made That One Day be Devoted to Northern Pacific Railway Interests

DURING HOME COMING WEEK

Northern Pacific Made Possible the Town and Has Been Its Backbone for Half a Century

Owing to the fact that the Chamber of Commerce rooms are engaged almost every night and Thursday was not a convenient date, the executive committee changed the meeting date of the "Home Coming Week" executive committee, delegates and citizens generally interested from Thursday evening to Monday evening, March 13.

The main business coming up Monday night is deciding definitely where to locate the celebration, business section of Brainerd or at Lum park. It is hoped to have on hand a large attendance of Rotarians and Lions too.

The suggestion has been made by R. J. Tinkelpaugh that there be a "Northern Pacific Day" at the "Home Coming Week". This is very appropriate for there would not have been a Brainerd without the railway's assistance and also for half a century it has been the backbone of this community.

Julius M. Hannaford, chairman of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific, got his first schooling in the railway business by entering the company employ as a clerk. The names of railway men connected with the work in Brainerd is legion. It would give the home coming week great prestige if the whole official family of the Northern Pacific railway company can be induced to come to Brainerd. Some of its officers are honorary members of the Chamber of Commerce.

And then again, railway men who had their first schooling on the Northern Pacific in Brainerd and then went to other lines and rose to high position, number hundreds. In fact if all the railway men at one time or other in their lives connected with Brainerd were to come here on "Northern Pacific Day", the town would be filled from end to end.

Publicity can be gained from the railway if it is approached promptly and through the right channels.

BILLIARD EXPERT COMING

Arthur "Porky" Woods of Minneapolis to Give an Exhibition at Cosmo Billiard Parlors

Arthur "Porky" Woods, of Minneapolis, is to give an exhibition in billiard playing at the Cosmo billiard hall on Thursday afternoon and evening, March 16, playing a 400 point match.

Minneapolis papers recently had this mention of Woods' prowess:

"Pocket billiard fans were given a run for their money at the Snyder recreation parlors when Arthur 'Porky' Woods of Minneapolis, runner-up in the national tourney, came within an ace of breaking the world's pocket billiard high-run mark. The feat came in the second block of a 750-point match between the Minneapolis man and Benny Allen of Kansas City.

"After making his ninety-eighth billiard Woods, attempting a shot and break, scratched and so ended the great chance. He made his ball, but the play was lost. It gave the several hundred fans a thrill when the ball tottered on the edge of the pocket before falling.

"Woods won both blocks of 125 in the afternoon and evening play from the visitor. The afternoon game resulted in a 125 to 99 score and in the evening the count ended with Woods on the long end of the 125 to 44 count. The men will play two games again today."

MAIL COACH ON FIRE LAST NIGHT

Friday Night Passenger, No. 11, Has Flaming Mail Coach Between Royalton and Rice

FIRST CLASS MAIL IS LOST

Coach Uncoupled and Run to Royalton Where the Fire Department Extinguished Blaze

Passengers on No. 11, night passenger from St. Paul Friday, were treated to an unusual spectacle. The mail coach caught on fire between Royalton and Rice from some unknown cause, and in spite of the fact that fire extinguishers from the coaches were freely used, the flames could not be subdued.

The train was stopped. The burning coach was uncoupled and run to Royalton where the fire department, which had seen the fire, was on hand to render aid and extinguish the fire.

Walter M. Murphy, County Highway Engineer of Brainerd, was on the train and said the mail coach looked like a comet as it was hauled to Royalton. The passengers were not a bit excited. The train was delayed an hour and a half.

It is reported that all first class mail, which was stocked in a pile roof high, was lost.

All Twin City papers billed to Brainerd were destroyed. The Service News Agency did not get a single copy. I. C. Strout spent the whole morning answering the telephone that no papers had arrived. The mail car was No. 154.

The "Hutch" serial of the Lyceum theatre burned up in the mail car near Royalton. All the films in the car burned up. Films for the Sunday show also went up in smoke. At the last minute Mr. Hiller got Elaine Hammerstein in "The Dollar Pays" for Sunday.

It is now reported that registered mail was saved.

Original "A No. 1."

The term "A No. 1" originated as a symbol used in the classification of wooden ships by Lloyd's Maritime Insurance association. It denoted that the hull and equipment of the ship in question were in good condition.

N. P. PASSENGER TRAINS ARE SAFE

The Northern Pacific has completed another year without being chargeable for the death of a passenger, it was announced by the company today.

"During the last five years, the Northern Pacific has had only one passenger fatality," said A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager. "This was in 1918 when a passenger stepped from the end of the coach, after the train had been cut at a terminal to do some switching.

"We are naturally very proud of the almost perfect record of our lines. Considering the extent of our business, the character of operation and climatic conditions, our safety record is one that few railroads can equal.

"Railroad transportation today is such an exact science that a passenger's risk of being killed on a railroad train is so remote as to be practically negligible. Julius Kruttschnitt says that a passenger's risk of being killed on a train in the United States was one in 182,000,000 miles run in 1900. In 1910, his risk was one in 196,000,000 miles run—numbers hard to conceive. A train running 60 miles an hour, and covering 525,600 miles a year, would require 373 years to run 196,000,000 miles."

FOR STANDARD BREED POULTRY WEEK PLAN

Minnesota's governor is the first in the union to proclaim a special week to be devoted to the welfare of the poultry and egg production interests of the state. This seems altogether fitting in view of the fact that the annual production of poultry and eggs in Minnesota averages nearly $41,000,000. By proclaiming Standard Breed Poultry Week, March 13 to 18, the state's executive has given material impetus to the effort to improve Minnesota flocks and increase their production. Prospects of eggs in cold storage are much less today than they were a year ago. Government figures also show that the large eastern centers are consuming vastly more eggs than ever before.

ST. PAUL CLERK OF COURT SONG

Rudy Schmidt, of the clerk of court's office in St. Paul, is a traveler and writer of ability and has written this state song to which he is having arranged for a Minnesota song:

UP IN MINNESOTA

From coast to coast I've rambled round

And sure enjoyed the ramblin'.
To say that wondrous spots I've found
Would be quite safely gamblin'.
From mountains grand to ocean strand

—Frisco to Minnesota—
Strike up the band, play "Happy Land."
Here's how to Minnesota.

Oh land of lakes for you I pine.
Oh balsam air and bright sunshine,
I'm comin' back to you.
Oh seasons all, from spring to fall,
That northern star calls from afar
To Minnesota true.

It's fine to be in Old "Kaintuck"
Ang dreat up in Montana.
If our southwest you try your luck,
Is nice in Santa Ana.
This country's grand where're you go
From Tampa to Mendota,
But happy land—well I'll say so—
Is up in Minnesota.

Young So-Stars for Fox in New Picture

The Lyceum theatre announces for its feature, tonight only, the Fox photoplay "Extra! Extra!" in which the popular Edna Murphy and Johnnie Walker appear as co-stars. The joint work of these two young artists in several Fox pictures has made them distinct favorites with photoplay patrons, and first-class entertainment is promised in their latest venture.

"Extra! Extra!" is a love romance, of course; but it is said to be developed on peculiarly original lines, involving a leading newspaper and big concessions in a foreign land. Johnnie Walker appears as a resourceful "Cub" reporter and Miss Murphy as a millionaire's secretary. Lively action is reported to mark the progress of this story—which is from the pen of Julian Josephson.

Conway Tearle at New Park Tonight

When a man goes singlehanded into New York's underworld to rescue a beautiful girl there is bound to be heap of trouble, and that is what happens in "After Midnight," Conway Tearle's latest Selznick Picture which will play at New Park tonight only.

Conway Tearle is seen in the dual role of Gordon and Wallace Phillips, two brothers of widely different character. The dramatic and exciting events of the story happen when, as Wallace Phillips, the star, enters the home of the brother, Gordon, and impersonates his beautiful wife is unaware of the change.

Warren Black, a denizen of Chinatown, threatens to expose him unless he turns over a certain block of bonds, and when Wallace refuses, Black lays a trap and kidnaps Mrs. Phillips. Wallace discovers the trick and fights his way into the den aided by a little Chinese girl whom he once befriended. The police arrive on the scene and rescue the couple and things are cleared up in time for the happy ending.

Kid McCoy Again Seen in His Old Prize Ring Togs

On the program of the latest exposition of the "voiceless art" made by David Wark Griffith, "Limehouse Nights," and called "Broken Blossoms," the name of Norman Selby will be found, playing the part of a prize-fighter, a part which this Indiana man played so well in real life. Audiences who see "Broken Blossoms" during its run at the Lyceum theatre Monday and Tuesday will learn with considerable interest that behind this engagement of Selby, known to the ring as "Kid McCoy," lies a story.

Battling Burrows is the father of little 15-year-old Lucy, to whom the mystery of life and death is brought by the Chinese poet, Chang Huan. Of him his creator wrote:

"Battling was a type that is too common in the eastern districts of London; a type that upsets all accepted classifications. He wouldn't be classed. He was a curious mixture of athleticism and degeneracy. He could run like a deer, leap like a greyhound, fight like a machine, and drink like a suction-hose. He was a bully; he had the courage of the big hero. He was an open-air sport; he had the vices of a French decadent.

Yet with all his dominance over the toughs of the East India dock district he had to come, at the last, to meet a real fighter.

With his quick sense of appropriateness it was plain to Mr. Griffith that the fight of Battling Burrows in the prize ring must be no less realistic and artistic than any of the other scenes in this moving drama of the London slums. And so he picked the one man who, even if he has passed the age when fighting is a joy, yet remains in the memories of his admirers, as the one clean, crafty, adept master of his profession.

So it is that once more in "Broken Blossoms" you see Kid McCoy, with all his old cleverness; his contempt for his ring money; his smashing blows and deft defense, trying to bring down the brutal father of poor broken Lucy, and so enraging the bully by his skill that when Battling Burrows emerges victorious from the ring and flushed with pride, his decadent mind is ready for the savage cry, 'My daughter with a Chin! Blimey, I'll show 'em and so rushes out to be the instrument of the Fates in the tragic climax of one of the most poignantly beautiful love stories that the American stage has seen.

PUBLIC TIRING OF SEX PICTURES SAYS BRADY

(By United Press.) San Francisco, March 10.—"The motion picture industry stands today where the saloon business stood twenty years ago," according to District Attorney Matthew Brady, who has directed the prosecution of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in two trials, and is about to repeat it again for the third time.

"The public is long suffering, but when it finally decides it has enough—look out for the avalanche.

"About twenty years ago the public got tired of the rottenness of the saloon. It got tired of having the corner bar a fester spot for crime.

"If the decent saloon men, the men who wanted to run high-class business establishments, had got together and worked with the police and legislators to put the abuses of the saloon and the liquor trade out of business, in all probability the saloon, as a decent reputable business establishment, would still exist.

"But the saloon men didn't do this. They went on abetting drunkenness and lawlessness. Finally the public simply got enough of it, and rose up and put the saloon out of business altogether.

"That is just the status of the motion picture industry today.

"The public is getting tired of seeing some morally rotten but highly paid actor or actress glorified and held up as an idol when such actors and actresses aren't fit for to associate with decent people.

"The public is tired of having sex flung in their faces. The people who live decent lives, the mothers and fathers with families they are trying to raise to respect the laws and to be upright and decent, are tired of seeing film after film picturing infidelity and 'red love.' They are tired of the 'other man' as a permanent fixture in the home—according to the motion pictures.

"They are giving the producers their chance to reform from within.

"If they don't public opinion won't do any reforming at all. It will simply annihilate the motion picture industry altogether—just as it did the saloon.

"You can't get away with glorifying in public persons with indecent morals and indecent private lives in this modern day and age—if you ever could in any other age.

If the producers are wise, they will spend their money in cleaning up the industry, instead of attempting to suppress every scandal that comes up and defending every film star whose personal morals get him or her into trouble."

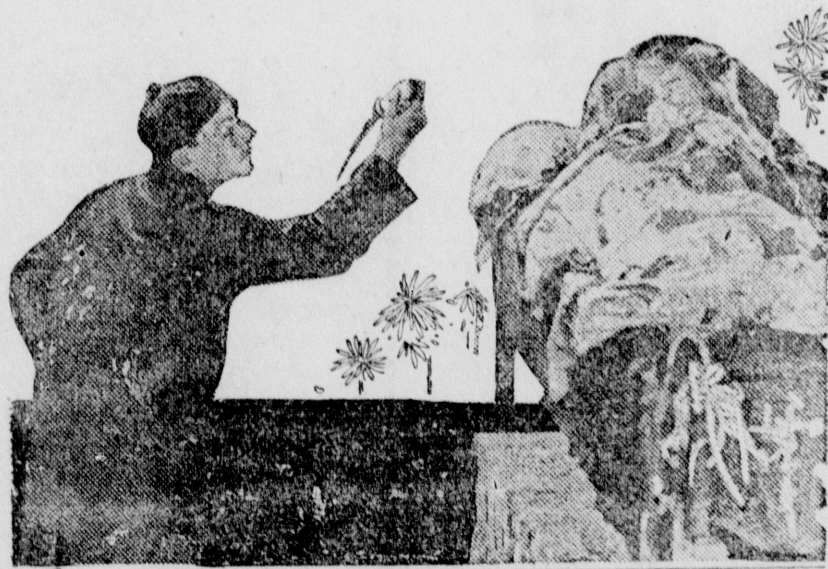

THREE-PIECE SUIT

Coat, Skirt and Blouse Costume, French Spring Outfit.

Fashion of Making Blouses That Extend Below Bottom of Suit Jackets Widely Advocated.

The three-piece suit—that is, the costume consisting of a coat, a skirt and a blouse, rather than a coat and a one-piece dress—is one of the most important features in the clothes which the principal French couturiers are now preparing for spring, a Paris fashion authority says. Although separate, the blouse is really a part of the suit, as it is either combined or trimmed with the cloth from which the coat and skirt are made. Used as a trimming, the cloth is often in the form of appliqued motifs or tubular strips.

A suit worn at Longchamps, and one which will doubtless find favor with the American woman this spring, consists of a hip-length box coat and skirt of tan kasha. The coat has seven-eighths-length sleeves in pagoda form and a soft rolling collar, which may be fastened closely about the neck or left open to the waistline.

At the New Park Sunday

SQUIRE DARTLETT DRIVES ANNA FROM HIS HOME. Scene from D.W. GRIFFITH'S "WAY DOWN EAST"

GRIFFITH'S INIMITABLE

TOUCH DOES WONDERS

Had "Way Down East," which will be at the New Park Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, been prepared for the screen by any other director than D. W. Griffith, it would have been a rugged production with a tale of abiding interest, but would have lacked much of the distinctiveness that one observes in the picture as it is now shown. Assuredly there would have been none of the wonderful effects that are of Griffith invention and the story itself would not have been amplified or given such detail as is now to be observed. In

The accompanying blouse is of tan silk, with a dotted pattern in brown, and has a high collar and long bishop sleeves. Since the coat worn over this blouse has short sleeves and an open neck a very striking effect is obtained by the high collared blouse with its long sleeves falling below the shorter sleeves of the coat. The most important feature of this blouse is a peplum of cloth, which hangs below the bottom of the coat. The coat is lined with the silk from which the blouse is made.

The fashion of making blouses that extend below the bottom of suit jackets is one widely advocated by the leading dressmakers. Madame Jenny shows a long blouse of silk, with a deep band of embroidery at its lower edge. This blouse is considerably longer than the suit coat with which it is worn, the embroidery appearing as though it were on the skirt or coat.

All the shades of tan and gray will be prominent in the new spring suits of both the tailored and fancy types. There is a persistent rumor that the vogue for the plain tailored gray suit, which proved such a success in Paris last spring, will be repeated this season, not only in gray cloth, but in tan as well.

Record of Irish Regiments.

All but two Irish regiments bear on their colors the record "South Africa." One is the Fourth (Royal Irish) Dragoon Guards. The other lacks this and other battle-honors for a very sufficient reason: it came into existence in 1900 by command of Queen Victoria, to celebrate and to commemorate the honorable exploits of the other Irish regiments in the Boer war. This is the Irish Guards and it was added to the Brigade of Guards as a special distinction to all Irish troops.

Webster's Work on Dictionary.

Noah Webster began his preparation for his American dictionary of the English language in 1807 and published it in 1828. Previous to 1807 he had published a spelling and "A Compendious Dictionary" both of which were probably helpful in the new undertaking. The American dictionary contained 12,000 more words and about 40,000 more definitions than had appeared in any English dictionary published before his.
